

Navatan World Fruits

Cold room facility

Navatan World Fruits is a leading importer, wholesaler, broker and distributor of fruits in the greater Bangkok region. Navatan operated from a small tenancy in Talad Thai markets and had no room to cope with expansion pressure.

To support continual growth of the business, a new greenfield distribution facility was required. The site is located on the perimeter of the markets and provides for easy distribution of orders to markets customers.

- Pathum Thani Province, Thailand
- Advisory services, concept design, reporting and ongoing technical support and project management

Project scope

Working collaboratively with Navatan key stakeholders, Wiley determined the company's unique cold storage and distribution requirements. Wiley food industry specialists prepared concept design options and all documentation required for obtaining quotations from local contractors.

Wiley developed the concept to suit Navatan's storage requirements for fruits at different temperatures and advised on racking and refrigeration systems.

Ongoing technical support and project management provided the client with Wiley expertise in cold storage facility design, through the construction phase.

Business value to client

Wiley specialists provided Navatan World Fruits with all the information they needed on which to make informed decisions.

A detailed assessment of their current situation and future requirements helped Navatan formulate a clear direction for growing the company.

Design and documentation

Distribution facility

Cold storage

Advisory Services

